What’s awesome about the Arizona's Capital City?

Many associate Phoenix with its heat but this city that has tons to offer! So, in case you’re passing through or looking to move to a home in the Superstitious Mountains, here are a few things you have to look forward to.

Phoenix is close to lots of cool stuff and great places to visit, such as Las Vegas, California and the wonderful mountains of Arizona, which are great vacation destinations.

Phoenix’s cultural diversity comes with some truly awesome cuisine, thanks to the Mexican, Native American and East-coaster communities across the city. Phoenix has stunning natural landscapes of mountains and desert, and of course the Grand Canyon, one of the most visited tourist destinations in the entire country and for a good reason.

Nonetheless, this modern city is almost entirely optimized to be handicapped friendly. Enjoy Phoenix to the fullest with specialized transportation from Wheelers Accessible Van Rentals!
What makes San Diego a great destination?

Sunny days at the beach, countless exotic dining choices and the chill vibe of the Southern California lifestyle, are just a few of the things that make San Diego a great place to visit.

The Gaslamp district in Downtown San Diego is a historic neighborhood that offers plenty of wheelchair friendly options with plenty of accessible businesses and infrastructure and great festivals, events and concerts happening all year round.

The Museum of Contemporary Art in San Diego and the Maritime Museum are great places to visit as well as La Jolla, full of hip restaurants, bars, retail stores and nice hotels close to the beach, with a stunning view of the Pacific Ocean. But these are just a few of the many options for leisure and entertainment that San Diego has to offer, like the world-famous San Diego Zoo.

Discover more of this beautiful city, wheelin’ around it in one of our wheelchair accessible vans and enjoy California to the fullest!
