

Supplemental Liability Waiver (SLW)

Wheelers Supplemental Liability Waiver is not insurance. But a waiver that may assist you in providing benefits when a claim is made against you during your rental with Wheelers. If a renter accepts the SLW, the renter accepts that they are responsible for the first $1,500 of damage whereas any additional costs for damage would be covered under any insurance the customer may have, including but not limited to; auto insurance, homeowners, credit card coverage's, etc. If there were any other unpaid damages, if the terms and conditions were followed and the vehicle was being used in accordance with Wheelers terms and conditions and all city, state, county and federal laws, Wheelers insurance may then cover. The purchase of SLW is optional and not required to rent a car. Wheelers is not qualified to adequately determine renter's existing coverage; therefore, the renter should examine his or her personal insurance policies or other sources that may provide the required coverage's.
